1: Roth--132 (No date)1890 Tasmanians
186

"'During the whole of the first night, after the death of one of their tribe, they will sit round the body, using rapidly a low continous recitation to prevent the evil spirit from taking it away. They are extremely jealous of this ceremony being witnessed by strangers; but I had, upon one occasion, an opportunity of being an ear-witness of it the whole night.'"